Manage balance

As of October 22, 2026

The purpose of this service is to provide an opportunity for you to manage your account without the need to speak with a Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) collections officer.

You have been directed to this page because you have a balance owing in one or both of the following:

- Individual income tax (T1)
- COVID-19 Emergency support

Any other balances owed are not displayed on this page.

Before you continue to the My Account Overview page, take one of the actions provided below.

⚠ Important information if you have recently filed a tax return

If you have recently filed a tax return, had a balance owing, and paid it in full, the system may not yet reflect your payment. This can take up to 10 business days to process and may not appear on the Notice of Assessment (NOA). If this applies to you, choose the option below that states: "I have recently filed an income tax return, had a balance owing, and paid it in full."

Fields marked with an asterisk (*) are required.

Balance owing

If you have made a payment arrangement on a balance owing, that amount may not be displayed here.

Program	$ Balance
Individual income tax (T1) - Amount owing	$39,118.81

 How would you like to proceed

- ○ I want to make a full or partial payment
- ○ I want to discuss my amount owing with the CRA ?
- ○ I have made or I'm in the process of making arrangements to address the amount owing with the CRA ?
- ○ I have recently filed an income tax return, I had a balance owing, and I paid it in full
- ○ I'm not ready to deal with the amount I owe right now, and would like to proceed to the My Account overview page
